Introduction to Web Technologies

Intended additional features

One of the most important features that I wanted to add is a landing page/ a main page, because it is important to have an introduction to the website.

In the old version of the website some of the teams and all of the drivers had a description that made the page look too long and forced the user to go through all of the elements just to reach a certain element. I intended, using a clickable arrow, to make a drop-down info tab that would make the website easier to visualize.

Another intended feature is to add more content about the 2021 Season, because when I first started the website, the 2021 Season did not start. The main page has more information about the upcoming races and the closest race (using geolocation), the next two pages (teams and drivers) have more information about the new teams and the “races” and “standings” pages now have information about the new results and standings of 2021. There is also a gallery added on the main page (which changes to the next slide every 5 seconds) that displays the 2020 Season highlights.

Evaluation of implementation

The landing page was successfully completed and the gallery and the geolocation work as intended. The user can now see where the closest race of the 2021 Season is, but also, because of the gallery, the user can have an outlook on the 2020 Season.

The arrows used in the “teams” and the “drivers” pages are working as intended, showing more information about the desired team/driver, therefore making the page look cleaner and giving the user only the relevant information. Unfortunately, the arrows will not rotate 180° if enabled.

The new information about the 2021 Season has been added successfully making the website more informative and more up to date with the latest events.

The website, even from the first version, was responsive. Unfortunately, it does not have fully integrated Bootstrap but I have made considerable testing to make it work on any resolution.
